Professional Licensing

Providing Strategic Advice and Experienced Representation to Professional Licensees

Dickie McCamey & Chilcote's Professional Licensing Group is chaired by Anthony D. Cox, Jr. who has years of experience representing professionals from a plethora of occupations before the State Boards of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. The Group has successfully defended accountants, appraisers, architects, auctioneers, barbers, chiropractors, cosmetologists, crane operators, dentists, funeral home owners, funeral directors, massage therapists, doctors, nurses, occupational therapists, optometrists, pharmacists, physical therapists, real estate agents, social workers, speech pathologists, vehicle dealerships, veterinarians, healthcare facilities, and ambulance associations before various State Boards and State/Federal Agencies.

Mr. Cox leads the Group with the skills and perspective acquired as a former prosecutor for the Pennsylvania Department of State where he spent years successfully prosecuting professional license violations before the State Boards, overseeing the investigation of complaints initiated against professional licensees, and evaluating whether prosecution is warranted. As a result, the clients of our Group receive the unique benefit of experience gained from the view of a former prosecutor.
