Warhola Named Pittsburgh Fast Tracker

Adam J. Warhola, Esq., is one of 39 Pittsburgh professionals recognized as a Fast Tracker by the Pittsburgh Business Times. The Fast Tracker award honors young executives (under the age of 40) in Pittsburgh who have made a significant professional impact and provided leadership in the business and non-profit communities early in their careers.

Warhola was nominated by Dickie McCamey shareholder Richard C. Polley, Esq., who works closely with Warhola in the Toxic Tort Group. Polley noted that Warhola's work ethic, professionalism, and loyalty are three attributes that make him a leader inside the firm and in the business community. Lydia Henderson, J.D., Regional Liability Adjuster with The Hanover Insurance Group who has worked with Warhola since he started at Dickie McCamey, stated, "Adam provides strong legal counsel for the most complex of litigated claims. He provides sound legal strategies and delivers great results."

Warhola works effectively with a variety of clients in areas of law that require vastly different approaches. According to Polley, "Adam is able to successfully practice in both toxic tort litigation and real estate, each of which require boundless energy and dedication. He is able to take a deposition and prepare for a jury trial while also closing a major real estate transaction."

Warhola has developed an asbestos practice serving as both National Coordinating Counsel and local counsel to various companies, as well as serving as co-chair of the firm's Real Estate Group. His real estate practice includes representation of a variety of parties in both commercial and residential real estate transactions, including buyers, sellers, lenders, landlords, and tenants.

Outside the office, Warhola brings the same dedication to colleagues, co-workers, and clients when organizing the annual MS 150 bike ride, the annual holiday event benefitting local needy families, or fostering a collaborative work environment.

Warhola earned his J.D. at the University of Pittsburgh School of Law after graduating summa cum laude from Duquesne University.
